

Deep Learning – RNN Assignment

Our Task

Our task was to incorporate songs' lyrics and melodies into an RNN model so that we could generate song's lyrics by a seed text and a seed melody.

Data Exploration

The data concludes of midi files as songs melodies and csv files as songs lyrics, such that each song has its lyrics and its melody information.

The number of artists in the train data is 226 with 610 songs. The longest song contains 1481 lyrics while the shortest one contains 128 lyrics. Another interesting insight is that there are 8 songs with less than 20 different lyrics.

Preprocessing

There were 7 songs that their midi files were deprecated, thus we removed them from the train set. There were 6 songs that had words that weren't in English. We dropped them so that they will not add to our data tokens that are very rare and that are problematic when combined with English tokens.

We also removed unnecessary spaces and words in braces as [].

Our Models

Model 1 – Beats Combined

Our first model combines the beats data (times of beats) of a song and it's lyrics. For every song we create 2 kinds of sequences – a lyrics sequence and a beats sequence. All of the sequences of a certain type are with the same sequence length. After testing different sequence lengths we decided eventually to define it as 10 for both of them – 10 lyrics in each lyrics sequence and 10 beat times in every beats sequence. The 2 sequences lists are the train data to the model. Our X features are all the lyrics but the last one and all of the beat times. Our y feature is the last lyric of a sequence.

For every lyrics sequence we calculate the relational position of the sequence in the song in relation to the song length and we take the beats sequence from the same relational position in the song's beat times. So, for example – a song with 100 lyrics that it's lyrics sequence were taken from the exact middle of the song – we will take the beat times that occurred exactly in the middle of all the beat times elements in the song.

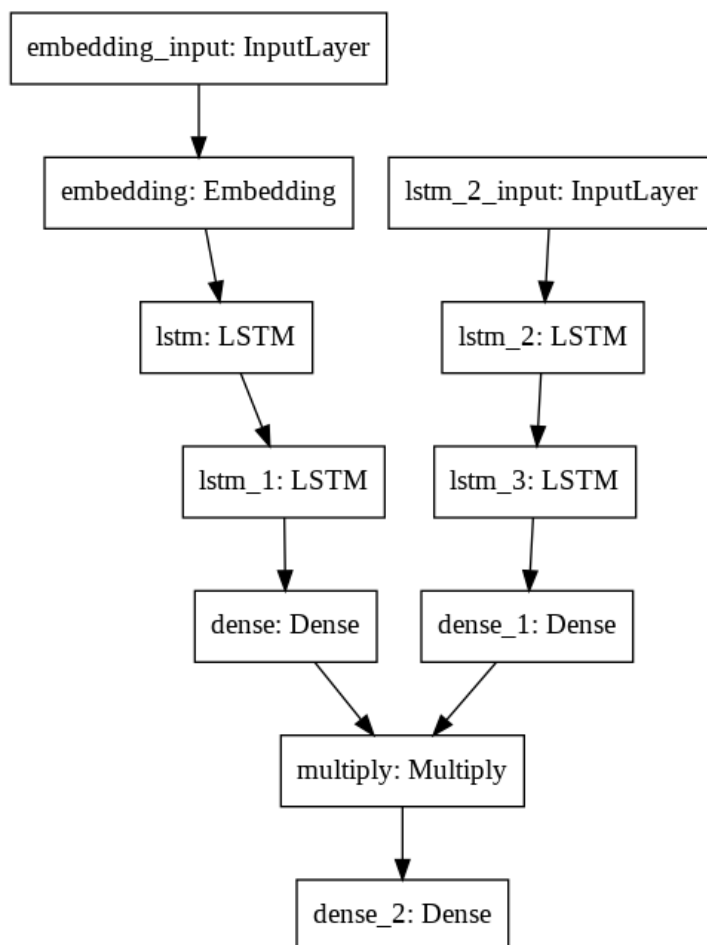

We shuffle the whole sequences (beats and lyrics correspondingly) and we randomly choose 10% of the data as a validation set.

The model's architecture is as follows:

Explanation of the model's architecture:

Every lyric is tokenized and is transformed into an embedding vector in the dimension of 300 by GloVe. The lyrics that don't have an embedding in GloVe are initialized with a vector in the dimension of 300 with normal distribution random values. The embedding layer in which the lyrics are inserted into in the model is trainable.

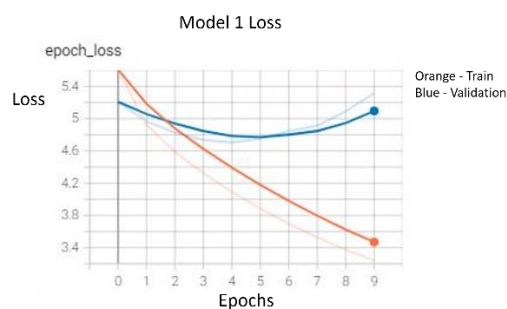

The embedded words are fed forward in the model into an LSTM layer of 100 LSTM units and then again – another layer of 100 LSTM units. Then the model is fully connected in a Dense layer of size 100.

The beats time elements sequences are being fed into other layers in the model (in parallel) of LSTM with 100 units twice (2 layers of 100 LSTM units) and then they are fed into a Dense layer of size 100.

The 2 vectors that are received from the lyrics feed forward and the beat times feed forward are then multiplied element-wise and then are finally connected to a Dense layer in size of the vocabulary size (7269 in our case).

We used Adam optimizer and cross entropy loss function.

Model 2 – Notes and Instruments Combined

After we've seen the last approach's performance we decided to try to incorporate the melody data differently in a model.

In this approach we create a vector that represents the whole song and we feed it into the model with the lyrics sequences. Every midi file contains data about the notes and instruments that appeared in the song. There are 128 kinds of notes and 128 different types of instruments. For the instruments and for the notes we create a vector of 128 zeros and we put 1s in every index that represents a note or an instrument respectively. Eventually we concatenate the two vectors into a 256 sized vector that represents the song's melody.

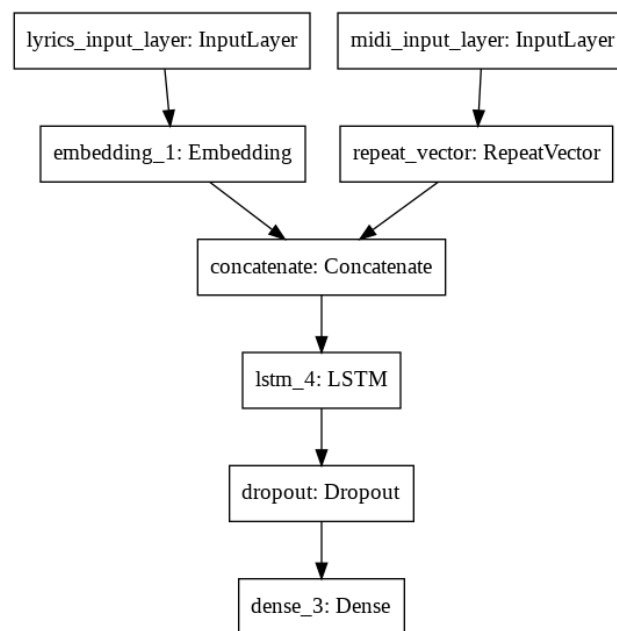

On the lyrics side – we create sequences of 10 lyrics when trying to predict the 11th word. We concatenate the lyrics vector with its song's melody vector. This way every sequence is related to its song's melody and it's being fed into the model together.

The model's architecture is as follows:

In this model we separate the input vectors into a lyrics vector and a melody vector. We then feed the lyrics vector into an embedding layer with GloVe initial weights. All the words with no embeddings in GloVe received a vector of dimension 300 with normal distributed random values.

After the embedding layer we concatenate the embedded vector with the melody vector and we feed it into an LSTM layer with 64 LSTM units. We added dropout regularization after the LSTM layer with a dropout parameter of 0.1.

We used adam optimizer and cross entropy loss function.

Models Testing

Analyzing the Generation Results

We will try to analyze the songs generation results that are presented in the next section.

The first model is trained with the corresponding beat times for every lyric sequence, thus it is trained to have lyrics with corresponding beat times as they appeared in the training data. So, the test songs' beat times affect the generated songs.

The second model engages notes and instruments of the whole song, we would assume that if the whole song has a specific sentiment, then the model will produce lyrics of the same sentiment. For example: if a melody has a sad sentiment, then the lyrics that the model will produce will tend towards this sentiment.

We can see that this assumption is clarified by the next lines that are produced by song number 0 and song number 3:

When we gave the word "everybody" as a seed to song 0 that is more sensitive, we received this beginning of the song: everybody the dance is the only last way tonight while song 3 that is happier ("I'm a barbie girl") it produced the first line as: everybody so caught in the country baby he's there for.

Models Songs Generating Test for each song of the test set we did the following phases:

1. The input is the melody and the initial word of the output lyrics
2. For each melody, we repeated the process three times, with three different words -> ["tonight", "love", "everybody"] everybody & sex they be bitter singin' & brenda and call me come on sign smile & people laughed to rag boogie & r beams up when they worked my lord & real lies and that's your down & that set up with my hand & she'll give lonely after a big house where i crawled in the winter & i'm revolutionary here with a house to me & tony at the lovely door & that's that much o jones & tell every lazy shit gets in the rhyme & i tryin' him the song was an mark down the door & and though that you'll tell & some kinda crossed love and mmm yeah & i got a chance it's sad of darkness read outta it & hug yourself when will be tellin' ev'rybody warm anymore & 'cause bill motherfucker shit but hey ron & when she's going out that you & maybe the hearts of mine & i leave you alone you know if you love me & oh yeah & ooh i want to get a little town if we learned & were that repeat and drove & lying by cause this the fuck is you hounded you & girls lay magic dread and and i see all you better meets the sleeve & i want to be & there's nothing for fun tender is so young & no matter what they be confused & what that my dad are & welcome to your mind & everything & everything is it & tell me what you see & i'm goin' inside to stop i really die & woo hoo witchy woman & you got a past oh left a snow if we think to say & sometimes it gets make me know & it was this old old weekend & it's some of men as she ain't ask love him & it's dark that i don't want forever & everything i can't go & when he felt like his tenderness your dick subsides & join your old nights fantasy & that can't use you and my life should be & i don't want permission & come from you and get home & 'cause & need me just like i don't care & i was right your land to love & don't set me free & and you do when you as the sign & i've just wrong & so well taught me why & i know you would leave me tomorrow & oh & i swear little sister ain't the way you & i'd like a man is themselves away & you're a impression that we had & alone can last gonna do & if i want you no good time you & i was a bootie & don't you know you're not a uptown girl & i better show you i know & to still will walk down with all and come & do you feel like that i did & i've tried that i never want about the love & so i was the line you know it was & you're never there & we can see that any bad & they didn't know he'd just the sea they know & but just the race of tellin' & i know how missing the love wrinkled with you & old distance every day & she's been right some looking at this days & all alone as dirty woman tonight & the same one who tried for you & where you wish & wasn't it all for something right again & oh i'll be gonna believe you & you & then you need a tear like a questions & life else loves him that you sure & just could you do you be sure & to be on the heat for you and three & but that hasn't loves & oh my & & and all my life is lost you do & i know we're over for you & i just just really want to be & i have to go to you & we think that do you do & give a tender like the queen to san eyes & and you've got a show & i ain't no one else & was right you're smart & baby then happens that they'll come with you all shine & dawn made on the night & and the movie be close to have good a deal & baby it's a hand of your eyes my fantasy & and only you would give you be with you & i love you & we will wonder why i've only loved a heartbeat & come on & and love are & stronger than yesterday & when i roll any moment & i like my head on the no baby don't matter why must you know & what is you feel & tell him that & but i've got her never known so & are long for you the evening motion & this things i deserve not gotta y'all re re re re re re re re & gave a course let's & happened in a white to grieving & it said in my soul & to be cover that i say will take me & whenever there did you play up turn up with you when i don't know no & you bought it in it now oh & bring on my own & it's a beautiful life why & it seems to have you trying to do what she would get an fashion & they swear so had to work & from time to understand & you don't like what one more time & give me faith in love you are & i would it make it all & then i'll ever have you have was right to & i drove it all easy & oh she's got a human minute & we had no girl we ever do & that it would all really might be so & i was in my good life and you can't they do & this is this easy in you & and that its sending and the spanish religion & he's just a beautiful young what is it & rock me gently & rock me slowly & take it to the secret life & hold on the right & is the radio where he they come & in a preacher man baby & just it lasts and am & everybody shakin' & and you've from high without a house & we can last naughty and georgia & back on an big shot friend & kick me everything to this strong & hoping something & what does we say & i don't think that i love you & it's all i want that i can't wait & so can you ask to me & the dawn run for me if it its change & my love is going to find in my way & oh never see the tears that i thought in girl & she's a straight back that door & we're all left in the streams too rich and bright & late to see the night and play in san antone & some thing i'll show you so lucky then i'll find & in my eyes and i will find & a special life in girl i know i'm in love & i have to learn to you & i think my love to live with my heart & and i feel the rhythm that i don't know & i'd be lucky and always will & and everything you know inside & until your love will you go home along the rain away & how much you gonna try to know that when she started dry & and though she sees us no surprise & a lovely girl should win give her little girl oh oh oh & oh oh oh oh oh & what a lonely oh oh & oh oh what a heartache tonight oh oh oh & oh oh oh oh oh oh & oh oh oh oh oh oh & nothing star oh oh oh woah oh & oh so dancing & and the woman that shines tonight & yeah when everybody you fall in love eof

Generated lyrics for song number 1, while the seed text is 'tonight':

tonight & i'm roger still for love is in my sleep with you black night & keep in the one i say in the side & there's no one who loves my life we know & only the wise of us only the river & make changes and in the touch & don't be your lead & when i will be still so bad & but i always have to close your arms & and i did miss you i think i see & i was with you my heart alone & i know in your eyes i do & and if i tremble in a man eof

Generated lyrics for song number 1, while the seed text is 'everybody':

everybody & its a new world where every is the man & why must we go by one day and we were fast & in my promised but i was a stranger & in my arms and the land & i'd be told you sad for i would lose my mind & holding my heart like my dreams made i wondered & she wants to love when you did not think i ain't & but the man are you were what i feel like & she pawned all his boy & they talk a couple of their rose upon a tree & they gather near the same and grey & your body is dying & i say a part of the little new state of town & like a premonition makes you hear me a song is changing my head & a only thing to you & in my dreams i need you for always & of my heart i dream & and it didn't live for every girl i can reach & i don't know if you do come true eof

Generated lyrics for song number 1, while the seed text is 'love':

love to sing & like a song singin' a song tonight & oh what a lonely boy & she was high in the country oh & come to love you now that you & start to make a little car & i'll run with your dreams oh oh oh boogie down boogie down & oh that's everything you have & well i'm tired of love & i was lucky i will never there to you & she's goin' there a heartache tonight & music i know where my baby & go on room and let me go stand & if i think i'm not afraid to die & nothin' to make my mind or get along & and the words might say goodbye & to live to show nobody & i've been told about enough it's us them much love & is it to learn & what i mean to love you now & and you all its gone but how i go to live room & i don't know one is a lucky of my world & and find our love to believe in the sun oh yeah & and i said a ray of fortune as a lovely thing baby & oh oh oh & wasn't it sure in love in my world & i know baby what we hear your girl oh honey & i can give that you love you only give me so long & and love to explain now to let him reach out & love once in my arms once by me & take it to the chance to keep everything 'cause if you judge & oh oh my love my & is that bad guy in a life comes to light and that you cry & 'cause when the debutantes in houston & so i wondered where you are & and that's why i am so & our romance is the fool to love & how to explain & let's give a woman in a new kid & we'll get back to the place & and i see you put away till the night & years gone tell him goodbye to god & but you should do oh darling no one to keep & in your heart hanging out to me & and that's your fire in the dark & and you know you've done to fade away & when changes and turning and free & i i have to give you a feelin' feeling so way & your tears on my eyes i do you will & and close the moon and go on my eyes & i stumble and fall till my heart will be & to see him i would leave & myself reach home now that i must be in my dreams & o' beautiful & in the skies are falling like you & oh my my friends you apart my baby eof no you could never change your love & oh yes i have to make it & i'm so hard to find & if i win your body never seems & it's not so wrong & the sun is me & my oh woah & it's my way so sad & i let me know now i try & i'm not so bad & to make you the my way & you know the baby & where are the touch & when you are my truth & he ever made & oh oh & he ain't gonna see the sun & in your eyes you can run & gone now we're gone & we'll never live without you that's true & for another night without a while & the lights have left without any reindeer & they meet the touch of the heat & the change of the world & the man you are coming back & you could be right but you & brought to be your find & a girl my face & my own day yeah & my folks close your wanna & oh yeah & oh oh oh oh oh oh & oh oh oh
